DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 34-49 are pending. Claims 34-49 have been amended in this communication filed 1/19/07 entered as Response After Non-Final Action and IDS filed 09/28/01.
2. The Objection to the title has been overcome by Applicants' amendment and is hereby withdrawn.
3. The objection to the abstract has been overcome by Applicants' amendment to the abstract and is hereby withdrawn.
4. The claim objections to claims 34, 42-45, and 49 have been overcome by Applicants' amendment and are hereby withdrawn.
5. The 35 USC 112 First Paragraph Rejection has been overcome by Applicants' amendment to the claims and is hereby withdrawn.
6. The 35 USC 112 Second Paragraph Rejection has been overcome by Applicants' amendment to the claims.
7. The 35 USC 101 has been overcome by Applicants' amendments to claims 34 and 48 and is hereby withdrawn.

Election/Restrictions

8. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 34-41 and 46-48, drawn to generating the analyzed result of the structured document, classified in class 715, subclass 513.
 - II. Claims 42, 43, and 45, drawn to registering the structured document and performing a full-text search, classified in class 707, subclass 3.

Art Unit: 3694

III. Claim 44, drawn to scanning the text containing element information and adding a character string, classified in class 704, subclass 4.

IV. Claim 49, drawn to acquiring the position of a structured document meeting the query from a content character, classified in class 707, 1 subclass

9. Inventions Group I, Group II, Group III, and Group IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Group I has separate utility such as generating an analyzed result of the structured document, removing the pre-designated element from the analyzed result, acquiring information on a position meeting a query, converting the information, adding element information for the highlighted display of information, and generating a text string of the structured document. Group II the subcombination has separate utility such as registering the structured document as text and performing a full-text search, acquiring portions of the text, and generating the structured document with element information for highlighted display.

Inventions Group III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because Group III has scanning the text containing element information from the beginning of the text and adding a character string including a character string position. The subcombination has separate utility such as acquiring a position of the structured document meeting a query, converting the acquired position into a position of the original structured document, inserting a start tag of highlighted displaying of information, and inserting an end tag for highlighted displaying of information.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicants are advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
